Directions

Print the reading log. Fill in the space for the name and reading goal.

Choose your reading challenge. Each book on the book log could represent a book that has been read or a set amount of reading time (such as fifteen minutes or thirty minutes).

Color each book on the book log as the challenge is completed. For example, if you choose to have each book represent fifteen minutes of reading time and the student reads for thirty minutes, color two books on the book log.

A prize could be offered when all thirty books have been colored.
